THE TEN ECONMANDMENTS

1. Maintain accurate time records that neither inflate nor ignore the actual time involved in any matter to be billed on a time basis.
2. Do not accept representation you would not otherwise undertake in "donkey and carrot" situations.
3. Be consciously aware that sources of business exist everywhere. The security guard; the custodian or the retail store where you trade may need a lawyer or have a family member who does. Friendliness breeds business.
4. Maintain courteous and friendly relations with all of the employees of your clients with whom you have any communication.
5. Keep up with the times. Your optometrist, dentist, barber and physician are required to do so; so you are no exception.
6. A happy, satisfied client is like the root of a healthy tree and is, without a doubt, the source of your future success. "A" will recommend "B", who, in turn will recommend "C". An unhappy, dissatisfied client will not hesitate to express his or her dissatisfaction with your handling of a matter to all of his friends — and to all of your partners.

7. Move active files through your office to a timely conclusion. Most lawsuits do not improve with age, particularly if you are representing the plaintiff. A file needs attention; or as one immigrant said of the United States, "There is gold in the streets but you must learn to pick it up".

8. Maintain form files. When you have prepared all of the documents for a sale of a business; it is pure folly to not have them at hand for the next similar occasion.

9. Encourage, by performance, enduring relationships with your business clients. If he is comfortable with you, he will want to keep you. As he grows, so will you.

10. Constantly keep your eye on the bottom line. Continuing attention must be given to expenses and the necessity, or lack of necessity, for same; the collection of income, or lack of it; and the overall efficiency of the office and ways to improve it.

YOUNG LAWYERS SECTION NEWS

YOUNG LAWYERS PRESIDENT'S COLUMN

As the end of the fiscal year approaches — to the relief of some and regret of others — it is time to look at the past year in retrospect in order to thank those who have generously contributed their time and effort to the Young Lawyers' Section and perhaps to critique those areas which may be improved.

First and foremost, the Executive Committee of the Young Lawyers' Section deserves more appreciation than I can express in this column. The members of the Executive Committee, Jesse Faerber, the President-Elect, Bob McFann, Secretary/Treasurer and the members of the Executive Committee, Bill Davell, Linda Conahan, Rob Dressler, Betty Anne Palmer, Todd Smith, Martha Snedeker, Therese Widmer, Mike Mc Nerney and Bruce Weihe have devoted an unbelievable amount of their own time to the myriad activities of this Section. As in most organizations, the officers and directors are those who normally bear the burden of implementing these programs. This year was no exception.

There are also many other Young Lawyers, too numerous to mention here, who have also selflessly devoted their time to insure the success of many events such as the United Way Run, the Flag Football Program and our annual Softball Tournament. Thanks for your help.

The success of the YLS Programs and the enhancement of YLS status in Broward County is directly attributable to the effort of these individuals.

With an ever increasing amount of new lawyers in Broward County — "eligible" young lawyers now constitute the majority of attorneys in Broward County — it is imperative that the YLS, continue to expand their social, political and educational programs. The advent of this YLS page and the proposed addition of the YLS President-Elect to the Executive Committee of the BCBA are two small but significant steps in this direction. With the help, assistance and input of dedicated people such as are on the current YLS Executive Committee, these programs can be improved to serve both the legal and non-legal Broward community.

It has been a pleasure to serve you during this last year, and I urge you to continue your assistance to the new President, Jesse Faerber.

JAMES B. DAVIS
President YLS

9th ANNUAL YLS CONVENTION

On the weekend of April 8th thru 12th, the Young Lawyers Section of the Florida Bar held its 9th Annual Convention at the Hotel Intercontinental in Miami. The activities started on Thursday evening with a formal dinner party held outside on the gardens at Vizcaya to honor the state's Young Lawyers Board of Governors, both past and present members. On Friday, there was a General Practice Seminar which featured local real estate lawyers speaking on the topic of real estate syndications as well as a daylong seminar on litigation entitled "Winning Through Preparation". Notably, local attorney, Sheldon Schlessinger, addressed the litigation seminar on the topic of medical malpractice, while local attorney Dale Sanders addressed the general practice seminar on the topic of domestic relations.

The activities on Saturday included a festive family oriented picnic at Tropical Park, which included a racquet ball tournament, a tennis tournament, a volleyball tournament, and the appearance of some well-known characters from Sesame Street. Of local interest, Broward County again demonstrated its superior athletic talents. Phil Morgan and "Big Bird" Solomon were the winners of the racquet ball tournament, while Steve Lauer and his date, Claudia, were the runners up in the mixed doubles tennis tournament. The highlight of the entertainment for the weekend was Saturday night's performance at the annual dinner by the Spinners. The driving rhythms literally had the the crowd of Young Lawyers dancing in the aisles. Finally, on Sunday morning, the convention closed with a golf tournament held on Key Biscayne. Despite the fact that there were reports that former Young Lawyer and resident of Key Biscayne, Richard Nixon, attempted to enter the tournament, the tournament was concluded without the necessity of convening a Senate Subcommittee to determine the winner.

In conclusion, those Young Lawyers who participated in the weekend activities, found that for their nominal registration fees, they were provided with a full array of outstanding seminars and entertaining recreational diversions.

NOTICE

TO: All Members of Broward County Bar Association and particularly Members of the Young Lawyers Section.

As hopefully everyone has noticed, the Young Lawyers of the Broward County Bar Association have had their own section in the Broward Barrister, consisting of 1 to 2 pages in the center portion of the monthly newsletter. In the upcoming months we are hopefully going to include and coordinate articles introduced by the various bar members. Anyone who would like to submit an article on a substantive legal matter, or recent changes in the law, please forward these articles to the President Elect, Jesse Faerber, c/o Suite 307, Gulfstream Building, 8751 West Broward Boulevard, Plantation, Florida 33324. SUMMER DRESS CODE

A majority of the Circuit and County Court Judges have indicated that, in view of the need for energy conservation and in consideration of the comfort of the public, they look with favor on the Summer Dress Code as was authorized last year and had been implemented again this year by the County Administrator.

Accordingly, it shall be the policy of the Courts from April 24, 1981, through September 30, 1981, that attorneys, the public, and employees attending Court need not wear neckties, coats, or jackets. Their manner of dress, however, shall comport with acceptable casual business attire.
